Personal Touch

Our Company

HR national is a unique Australian network of well-connected and highly experienced industry specialists, delivering premium recruitment and consulting services to Australia's leading organisations.

Our Mission

To improve the condition of your organisation through great talent.

Our Consultants

More Experience

Our consultants are highly experienced senior level professionals with large established networks within the industry sectors and occupational categories they specialise in.

More Incentive

Our consultants are independent practitioners, not salaried employees; therefore, they are only rewarded for achieving your organisations recruitment objectives.

More Strategies

Our consultants utilise a variety of advanced candidate capture strategies to proactively identify and engage with high-calibre active and passive candidates.

More Selective

Our consultants accept a limited number of job assignments to ensure that they have sufficient time and resources to achieve successful recruitment outcomes in a timely manner.

Our Services

Permanent Recruitment

A contingency based permanent staffing recruitment model that combines targeted advertising with a range of proactive candidate sourcing strategies.

Executive Search

A retained service model offering advanced candidate identification and engagement strategies to secure the very best executive level talent locally and globally.

Contract Recruitment

Source highly skilled individuals or interim executive level managers for short to medium term contracts.

Our Reach

With a growing number of Australian employers experiencing a range of skills shortages, timely acquisition of candidates with relevant skills has become an operational necessity. HR national offers unparalleled national and global reach coupled with advanced candidate assessment strategies to deliver the very best talent, when and where you need them.

Our Difference

We Do the Things You Don't

HR national consultants utilise a diverse range of proactive identification and candidate engagement strategies that most employers do not have the time or resources to implement.

Fast Hire Turn-Around Times

HR national prides itself on one of the fastest engagement to hire turnaround times in the industry.

We understand that it's not just about accessing the right candidates, but doing so in the right time frame.

Single Provider Solution

With a large network of specialist consultants across multiple industry and occupational sectors, HR national provides employers with an effective single provider recruitment solution.

Advanced Behavioural Testing

HR national utilises a range of cutting-edge behavioural assessment tools to help employers mitigate hiring risks and substantially improve post hire return on investment.
